No incidents to report.

A significant amount of the team's time is taken up with domestic incidents and supporting vulnerable people which is not reported here.

For example, more than half of people in custody over Christmas* were arrested on suspicion of domestic offences.

Of the 60 people in custody over the weekend, 34 were arrested on suspicion of committing domestic offences including sexual assault, assault, criminal damage, coercive and controlling behaviour, breach of non-molestation orders, threats to kill and theft.

Chief Inspector Zaid Khan from the Warwickshire Police Domestic Abuse Unit said: "Christmas is anything but happy for victims of domestic abuse who often find themselves spending more time at home with their abuser, something that is even more of a problem during the Covid restrictions we are living in.

"Domestic abuse takes many forms including physical, economic, sexual and psychological.

"We are here to help; we have specially trained officers who are here to offer support and protection, and work to bring offenders to justice. Please don't suffer in silence."

If you are a victim of domestic abuse, or know someone who is, and there's an emergency or life is in danger call 999. In non-emergency cases and for general advice you can call 101.

Officers will make sure you're dealt with respectfully and spoke to away from the person responsible for the abuse. If you are physically injured we will arrange medical care if necessary.
